Nathan Allan
Glass Studios Inc.

With the amazing success of our "Crystal Series Cognac" glass tunnel in Rome, Italy, Nathan Allan's products have been in high demand throughout Europe.

Our latest venture is with "Material Connection". MC is a resource library of "High End Only" products, distributing through out all the European countries. After working on the Fendi project (architect: Peter Marino, NYC) in Rome, interest has been forthcoming from corporations such as Louis Vuitton, architects such as Cesar Pelli, and from COO's of some professional sports clubs.

Nathan Allan has developed a reputation for creating products that are original and unique, yet practical and functional. View our website for our 2 new latest glass technologies, "Convex Glass" and "Freeform Glass."
